

Dear Sir/Madam,

During the second quarter of 2008, Stirling Mercantile authored articles for three publications. One was in a trade corporate finance publication, but two were in the public domain and are highlighted below.

Stirling Mercantile has two related objectives, to provide clients with insight into corporate finance issues, and to help generate publicity to positively aid clients' business development and financing ambitions.

The Vancouver chapter of Association of Corporate Growth hosted its primary conference 'Capital Connection'. The event brought together local and international investors with corporate finance and other deal advisers. Ross McDonald of Stirling Mercantile provided the ACG with an insight into Canadian M&A trends.

In May 2008, the Cleantech Investor magazine focussed on 'Agriculture: Feeding and Fueling the World'. Stirling Mercantile is actively expanding its expertise and investor connections relating to clean technology. Ross McDonald of Stirling Mercantile provided an article that profiled biofuels client, Agrisoma Biosciences.

Separately, David Shore presented to entrepreneurs at Telus's New Ventures competition. Seminar, PDF And Ross McDonald presented to a EMBA students at SFU on New Ventures Development. PDF.
